Superintendent

It was wonderful to hear from Ms. Bhuyan, our High School Social Studies teacher, this week regarding a group of students who traveled to meet with one of the countries' well-known politicians, Mr. Sadiq al-Mahdi. Mr. al-Mahdi served two terms as the democratically elected Prime Minister of Sudan. He spoke to the students about the recent history of the country as well as its current state of affairs.

During their visit Mr. al-Mahdi spoke on a range of topics and enthralled our students with an insider's perception of Sudan, its triumphs and challenges. It is not too common for a group of students to have access with someone of Mr. al-Mahdi's stature and from all accounts they were amazed by his in-depth understanding of politics in Sudan, and his ability to place current issues in Sudan within a historical context. Like most politicians, Mr. al-Mahdi was a wonderful speaker who managed to captivate his audience on a range of issues.

Beyond his impressive resume as a politician, people aware of Sudanese history will know that Mr. al-Mahdi is also the Grades 1 & 2 Arabic students are now experiencing a new setting for the 4th quarter. For two weeks now they have been working together as a team, and what we have noted throughout this experience is that we are now more prepared about what to expect from certain students... how to look at what they can produce in a different way...

Students' attitudes towards the subject have also changed
